City Manager Outlines Details Of 1947 Mission Bay Park Work Program

RHODES TELLS OF PLANS NOW APPROVED BY CITY COUNCIL FOR THIS YEAR

San Diego City's program of $435,000 development work this year on Mission Bay, as approved last week by the City Council, contains practically all the recommendations that had been made by City Manager Fred A. Rhodes, The News learned this week. The program particularly calls for a huge amount of dredging especially intended to open the northeast section of the bay for use.

Rhodes stated that in "authorizing the dredging of the channel to the northeast part of the Bay from the Causeway and the filling in of the land, a suitable space for trailer and auto courts would be provided adjacent to the City. The City is in need of a first-class trailer camp location; and having one located adjacent to the highway and having a beach frontage would certainly be attractive and a revenue producer at the same time.

$250,000 For Dredging

The full program includes $250,000 for dredging the channel and $3000 for road and park-

Mission Bay C. C. Will Discuss Bay Park Development

AUGUST MEETING WILL BE HELD MONDAY NIGHT AT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

By Pres. Steve Young

A regular membership meeting, open to the public, is scheduled by the Mission Bay Chamber of Comerce for Monday evening, August 11, at 8 p.m. at the Ocean Beach Grammar School auditorium.

Due to the fact that the last regular membership meeting of the Chamber was not held because the school auditorium was not made available at the last moment, members and guests will find a full agenda of important business to discuss and consider at this meeting.

A discussion of streamlining and better coordination between the standing committees of the Chamber, as recommended by the Ways and Means committee and accepted by the Board of Directors, will be presented to the membership. The Board of Directors now include Ben Ross, Henry R. Rigoli and Mrs. Louise Merrick as officers and Bruce Robinson as secretary, bringing the total of officers for the Chamber to full strength.

Also to be discussed at the meeting are important changes in the Highway plan for Mission Bay park, the development to date, and other area topics.

A letter sent to the Pacific Beach businessmen, as a result of the proposed disbandment of the Pacific Beach Chamber of Commerce, will be presented to the membership, and it is hoped that a large Pacific Beach representation will attend to present their views and feelings on the matter.

The meeting will include the customary door prizes and some fine local entertainment. The presence of all Mission Bay residents is urged.

The first Annual Mission Bay ball, to be held at the Mission Beach Ballroom on Thursday evening, August 28, and sponsored by the Chamber, is already assured of great success, with over 5000 tickets sold and paid for to date. The ball will be the first social event sponsored by the Chamber and the net proceeds will be used in a manner and for a purpose in keeping with the Chamber of "the intelligent development, improvement and advertisement of the Mission Bay area."

LIFEGUARDS SAVE BOY FROM FOOT OF CLIFF

Donald Collins, 12, of 4439 Marseilles St., was rescued Tuesday, Aug. 5, when rising tides trapped him at the foot of the cliff below Brindisi St. Lifeguard John Kowal of the Ocean Beach station and Rob Nelson, county lifeguard who was off-duty, towed young Collins on a torpedo can for about 150 yards north, where the boy was able to clamber to safety. He had been wading along the beach with some other boys when the tide cornered him at the foot of the sheer cliff.

Ed Skagen Tells Kiwanians Labor Not Against Profit

"Labor is not against profits—it is against profiteering," Edward M. Skagen of San Diego, a representative of the International Machinists Union, told the Kiwanis club at Tuesday night's meeting, held in Wallace Hall. Skagen, who has been assisting in the negotiations that recently ended the local boatyard strike, was the guest speaker and was introduced by Dave Chandler, program chairman for the evening.

Speaking on the topic of "Labor," Skagen by way of introduction said that "Labor unions have not been able to put themselves across to the American public as they really are. Unionism is doing the same thing as other organizations, service clubs included, the object being to get together to help each other.

"Yet it a sad state of affairs that some of these organizations deny to labor the same right to organize for mutual benefit.

"The Labor movement is a great movement in spite of the Petrillos and other labor leaders of that stripe. Labor unionism should not be judged by the few leaders who are hurting labor, any more than we should condemn our national government because their are a few 'rotten eggs' here and there in places of power.

He praised the leaders of his own union, the International Machinists. "This union," he said, "is the most powerful of the unions of the A. F. of L. It has a treasury of $17,000,000, and we are paying our head official $12,000 a year. Our union even loans money to firms employing machinists that need it to keep going."

"Labor Erred Here"

Referring to the recent Convair strike in San Diego he said that the primary mistake in that strike was on the part of Labor. He maintained that the company wanted the strike.

As for the new Taft-Hartley labor law recently passed by Congress "Labor is no more worried about that law than is management. The law itself has some good points, but it is really full of loopholes."

Back the Chamber of Commerce

At the August directors meeting, following the regular session Tuesday night, the Kiwanis strongly backed up the Chamber of Commerce in its campaign to prevent any loss of business for the Ocean Beach business districts by reason of the city's routing of roads in Mission Bay park. The Kiwanis Public Affairs committee was instructed to assist the Chamber of Commerce in the capaign.

Lions Club Sees FBI Film About Death On Highway

The Ocean Beach Lions club, at their Thursday evening meeting, July 31, at the Community Center, saw a 16 mm. film entitled "And Sudden Death" which depicted the death and injuries resulting from reckless driving and hit-and-run driving. The movie was prepared and released by the FBI, and the projector was operated by Mark Irwin. Bill Stone was program chairman for the occasion.

Guests were John Chamblin of the San Diego den, and Officer Barnes, of the Ocean Beach Police station, who is retiring after 20 years of service.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spencer spent the weekend of July 25-27 at Laguna. The Spencers live at 5011 Del Monte.

AZURE VISTA BOY SHOT ACCIDENTALLY AUGUST 5 WHILE CLEANING RIFLE

Roger Blue, 12, is reported "doing well" at County hospital this week after he was taken there the evening of August 5, when a bullet from a 22 caliber rifle lodged in the boy's neck and shoulder. Young Roger was cleaning the gun in his home at 4465 Marseilles St., when it accidentally discharged. Hospital authorities do not consider his condition critical.

C. Of C. Decides To Hold Luncheon Meeting In Sept.

Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce, at the general membership meeting for August, held Monday evening in the Woman's clubhouse, decided to hold the September meeting at noon.

Change is made with the idea of trying out the noon luncheon meeting plan. Discussion on the proposal was the main topic at the business session and was led by Chairman Milton Lancaster of the membership committee. He said he was suggesting the change in order to accommodate many members who find it inconvenient to attend an evening meeting. Many of the members, he said, are in the habit of eating their luncheons in Ocean Beach cafes at noon anyway. The thought expressed was that the members could save time and also attend in larger numbers a noon

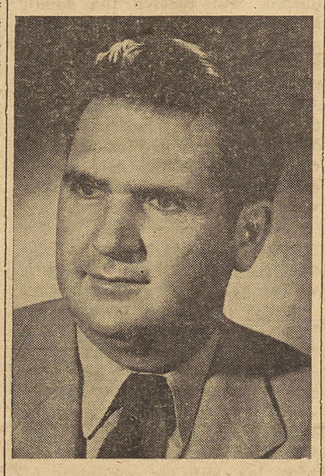
Bus Company To Survey Need For Hilltop Bus Line

Capt. Frank Luckel, assemblyman from this district, received assurances this week from Sam Mason, head of the San Diego Electric Railway Co., that the company would survey the need for a bus route to serve the Point Loma Heights hilltop area. Capt. Luckel had informed Mr. Mason that the residents of the Point Loma area are considering petitioning the city for more adequate bus service.

Mr. Mason indicated that should a hilltop route be initiated it would probably run along Chatsworth and Catalina Blvds. He went on record as opposing the suggestion that the present Ocean Beach and Pt. Loma bus routes be united at their ends, forming a loop around the hilltop.

MEET YOUR OCEAN BEACH NEIGHBORS

William D. Baker



(Studio of the Cliffs)

Our Neighbor for this week is not only one of those rare native Californians, but is also a native San Diegan and comes within a "stone's throw" of being a native of Ocean Beach. William D. Baker, owner of Baker's Smile Shop, is proud of the fact that he was born in Pacific Beach. The date was July 9, 1914, when the latter community and Ocean Beach were mostly wide open spaces.

Bill graduated from San Diego High School in 1933, and then attended San Diego College off and on until 1940, working his way as he studied. In September, 1940, Bill enlisted in the Army Air Force as a cadet, and was stationed at Glendale, Moffett Field, Sacramento, and Stockton. He received his wings and commission in April, 1941, at Stockton Army Air Base.

Assigned to Moffett Field, Bill served as a flying instructor there until January, 1942, when he was transferred to Merced as a basic flying instructor. At this time he was flying BT-13's.

On Jan. 16, 1943, Bill married Selma Young, whom he had first met in junior high school in San Diego. Shortly thereafter, he was transferred to Lockbourne Air Base in Ohio, where he received instruction on B-17's. In April, 1943, he went to Hobbs Field, N. M., where he served as a B-17 instructor until Oct., 1944, when he was shipped overseas to Biak Island in the Pacific. He served with the 4th Air Depot there until transferred to Okinawa as commanding officer of the 2nd Aircraft Assembly Squadron at the Naha Air Depot.

In November, 1945, he was returned to the States, assigned to Randolph Field, where he attended an I. and E. school. Later he was appointed I. and E. officer at Randolph. In August, 1946, Bill was discharged as a captain.

Following his release, Bill returned to his native city, and started his toy shop on Newport avenue in Ocean Beach. Helping him in the store is his mother, Mrs. T. B. Baker, of Ocean Beach. Bill and his wife live at 1322 Dale St. in Golden Hills. They have a son, Dennis, 3, and a baby daughter, Darlene Ruth.

Bill is a member of the Elks, Lodge No. 168, in San Diego, and is a captain in the active Air Force Reserve. Although photography has been his major hobby, Bill has recently developed an intense interest in model trains.

SCOUT BOARD OF REVIEW MAKES PLANS FOR FALL

T. C. Davidson, Ralph Chadwick, F. J. Tucker, Lou Fleetwood and Scoutmaster C. R. Bingham constituted the Boy Scout board of review which met at the Log Cabin here July 25 to formulate a fall program for Troop 28. The board arrived at a few definite objectives.

The program as outlined by these men will consist in part of parent-and-scout potluck dinners, talks by veteran scouters, and visitations to the parents by members of the organization's sponsoring body (in this case the Ocean Beach Kiwanis club) and other interested parties.

The News received a card this week from Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bruce, who are now vacationing at Chateau Lake Louise, in the Canadian Rockies.

LANE FIELD TO BE SCENE OF PADRE-RAINIER DUEL

Manager "Rip" Collins' San Diego Padres and Manager Jo-Jo White's Seattle Rainiers square off in the opener of a four game series Friday night at Lane Field. There will be an evening tussle Saturday and the conventional twin bill Sunday afternoon.

The Padres and the Rainiers are even-Stephen in their games to date, each club having won a 4-3 series in previous meetings this season.

San Diego goes to Portland next week and the following week plays at Seattle. Next home series will start August 26 when the Hollywood Stars come south for a nine game mix.

Point Loma High Summer Term Ends

With a finishing enrollment of 350, a reduction of only 18 from the original figure of 386, the Point Loma high school summer session concluded August 2. Dean Mrs. Mary R. Maull has been acting principal since the term's opening on June 23.

One of the most popular courses offered during the summer months, she said, has been seashore biology, with Paul W. Farrar as instructor. Studying animal life along the beach and bay, the class was sometimes eagerly searching for specimens at six o'clock in the morning; once the especially interested were on the job at four. Field trips were frequent throughout the summer and occasionally concluded with a picnic. After each excursion the class returned to the laboratory at the school to study the specimens gathered.

Special Assembly

The term wound up with a special assembly, held Friday Aug. 1. David Thompson, newly elected commissioner of general

YOUNGSTER INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

As she attempted to run across Abbott St. in an unmarked crosswalk at the corner of Voltaire, Peggy Jane Walkington, 3½, was struck by an auto July 31 and slightly injured on the back. The child was only a block from her home at 5115 Lotus. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Walkington of that address.

Norma Proves To Be "Toast of Town" In Southern Community

Mrs. F. H. Belloff, 2111 Mendocino Blvd., received a wire Friday from her much-traveled daughter, Norma Jean, stating that she had arrived in Jacksonville, Fla., on her cross-country bicycle tour. Following are excerpts from Norma's letters to her mother, with notes by Mrs. Belloff:

June 29

On Way to Pensacola, Fla.

Dear Mom:

Yesterday I back-tracked down the Mobile Bay to Belingrath Gardens (entry fee $1.00) Norma's entry fee nothing. The plant arrangements are very similar to Mrs. Sefton's (see note at end) but on a much larger scale—all very beautiful. I'm afraid I was much more interested in the two handsome young fellows who caught up with me on the path and walked with me thru' the lovely landscapes. They had just finished engineering college and were on their way to jobs in Texas. I had a couple of refreshing dives from Mr. Belingrath's wonderful diving board, into the Dog river which edges the gardens.

Monday night I slept in a minister's yard in Bayou la Batre.

I must tell you about the beautiful highway in and out of New Orleans—four lane, cement that looked like a parkway, grass in the center and on the sides clipped close, moss weighted trees,

First Family Nite Attracts 150 To Recreation Center

At the Ocean Beach Community center, around tables decorated with pink amaryllis, dahlias and fern, dinner was served to 150 members and guests of the newly organized "Family Night" group on Wednesday, July 30. Co-operation of the elected officers and members went far in making it a very enjoyable affair. The menu, a planned dinner, served family style, consisted of Boston baked beans, weiners, sweet relish, potato salad, cole slaw, buns, home made apple pie and ice tea.

Helen Myers, Doris Cronk and Kathryne Rowland had their ovens going many hours in preparing the large roasters of baked beans. Families attending brought a salad or an apple pie.

Mrs. Dora Grobecker and Mrs. Francis Curry with their helpers had the Community house kitchen well under control.

Credit for the table decorations and efficient service in the dining room goes to teen age members of the group under the supervision of Mrs. Francis Pearson aided by Virginia Curry. Serving were: Peggy and Wilma Sohnlien, Jo Anne Jones, Bessie Yount and Donna Muchmore.

After a short business session called by President Stanley Grobecker, and introduction of guests and new members, members played their regular volleyball and badminton games. Several tables of bridge also were in play.

Mrs. Kathryne Rowland, social chairman, expresses thanks to the committees for their co-operation and all members for their generous contributions, also Harry Masters and Walter Kidwell for their courtesies.

John Wood, director of the Community Center, and members of the Wednesday night Family Circle extend a cordial welcome to all families. "Come over and meet your neighbors. You may call Mr. Wood at the Community Center for information. Bayview 1175."

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griffin moved Sunday to 4792 Niagara Ave., the former residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Stannard. The Stannards have moved to Riverside, where Mr. Stannard is connected with Raft Packing Co.

ACCIDENT VICTIM DIES

Mrs. Rosa Meschner of La Mesa died August 6 as a result of the auto accident when she was struck by a car at the corner of Voltaire and Cable Sts., July 17. The accident occurred when a car driven by John A. Traxler, 17, of 1115 Savoy, hit three women as they tried to cross the street at the Voltaire-Cable intersection. Traxler was cited at the time for driving without undue caution. The others struck were Doris Tolin of Grossmont, and Mediline Lopage of La Mesa.

Kraft Buys Back Drug Store Owned By Him For Years

CHANGE TAKES EFFECT AUGUST 1; CROCKER TO BE GENERAL MANAGER

Sen. Fred H. Kraft announced yesterday (Thursday) that he bought back from Massey J. Horton the Kraft drugstore, corner Newport & Bacon, that Kraft previously had owned for many years. "Rather broke my heart to part with it last winter," he said. Horton had owned and operated the store for 7½ months. The change took effect on August 1.

Lloyd Crocker, who has a part interest in the business, will be general manager, Kraft stated, and the same personnel of help will be continued, at least for the time being, he indicated.

The senator also announced that he plans to open soon a general insurance office down town, and that a San Diego County legislative office has been opened in Rooms 205 and 206 in the Spreckels building down town. The latter office will be occupied jointly by Kraft and the three assemblymen, Frank Luckel, Howard Kramer and Mrs. Kathyrn Niehouse.

The senator indicated that he would alternate his time among the three offices including the store office here and also would be on the road part time carrying out his duties as a member of state senate interim committees.

Horton informed The News that his future plans have not been completed as yet.

FLEET RESERVE GROUP INSTALLS OFFICERS AT MEETING OF THURSDAY

New officers for the coming term in Branch 80 of the Fleet Reserve Association were installed last Thursday evening at a business and social meeting held in the Woman's Clubhouse. They are: President, Franklin Sieckman; vice-president, John Hamilton; and secretary-treasurer, J. M. Robertson. The new board of directors named are: George Cinq-Mar, D. Webster, Hugh Reynolds, George F. Kelly, A. Reymann and Howard E. Hockenberry. Paul Hendrickson, past regional vice-president of California, was the installing officer.

Assemblyman Frank Luckel (U. S. Navy Ret.) and Mrs. Luckel were guests. Capt. Luckel is an honorary member of the branch.

COLLECTION OF BELLS ON DISPLAY AT LIBRARY

The Ocean Beach Branch, San Diego Public Library, literally "rang the bell" this week with a novel exhibit in the adult room of the library.

Representing the work of bell-makers of many foreign countries, the display features a collection of 25 bells, loaned by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ortiz, Jr., of 2061 Chatsworth Boulevard.

Included in the exhibit are bells from China, England, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Belgium, and Holland, as well as elephant bells from India.

The Beachcomber

Seen: An exotic flower, called a night-blooming cereus, blooming in Jo and Fred Edward's back yard. This delicate and beautiful flowering cactus blooms only at night and the bloom only lasts one night. Mrs. Edwards aptly described the interior of the bloom as looking like a small white cathedral, complete with congregation, choir and pipe organ . . . An amazing gadget called a Webster wire recorder which Milt Plummer brought into the office the other day. It records your voice on a wire and plays it back to you. Only trouble is that I can't stand the sound of my voice when it comes back.

Heard: That Mrs. Ritchey's night-blooming cereus (see above) is going to bloom in the near future.

Bouquet of the Week: To the newly-formed Ocean Beach Garden Club, which is promoting a campaign to increase tree-planting in Ocean Beach. A fine idea.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS MEET IN SPECIAL SESSION TO CONSIDER STEPS TO TAKE

Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce directors, in special session held at Glenn's Drive-In Wednesday noon, decided to investigate the latest changes the city has made in the route that it to connect Ocean Beach with Mission Beach after the Mission Bay park development is completed. The latest maps brought here this week from the city offices show that the route has been outlined in a further round-about course than had been first planned by the city, with the result that the new route between these two communities has been outlined at least an estimated mile further east than before. Accordingly, the indications are that Ocean Beach has been further by-passed than was originally announced for taking out the present Mission Bay bridge.

Study of the latest map by the Chamber's directors Wednesday revealed that Sunset Cliffs Blvd., is to be extended in a northeasterly direction 3000 or 4000 feet into what is now the Bay and is to join a new extension of the Causeway road just south of the bridge that is to span the outlet flood channel of the San Diego river. The new map indicates that this flood channel bridge, which is one of the two bridges to connect Ocean Beach with Mission Beach, will be about 3000 feet farther east than where it was located in the original plans for Mission Bay park.

New Route Outlined

The new map shows a circular junction of four highways at the Sunset Point in the Bay, one of which roads will be that from Ocean Beach extension of Sunset

Three New Classrooms To Be Constructed At O. B. Elementry School

BIDS ON CONSTRUCTION OF PORTABLE UNITS TO BE OPENED ON AUG. 19

Three new classrooms for the Ocean Beach Elementary school are planned for this fall, A. J. Churchman, assistant business manager of the San Diego school district, informed The News Wednesday. The three are to be portable units, each containing one classroom 24 by 40 in size, he said, and are a part of 30 such units that are being provided by the district to meet emergency congestion of pupils in the various elementary schools of this city.

An expected large increase in enrollment of pupils at the local elementary school this fall has made the construction of new classrooms necessary, Churchman reported Wednesday. "We also aim to reduce the teacher load," he said. The new classrooms will enable this school to reduce the number of pupils per teacher, thereby providing more efficient instruction."

Bids to Be Opened Aug. 19

Bids for the construction of these portable units, estimated to cost around $7000 each, are to be opened Aug. 19, Churchman reported, and the plan is to begin construction soon after that date, with the idea of having the new units ready for use early this fall.

At the Ocean Beach school the three new units are to be placed on the Newport Ave., side of the grounds extending out east from the present classroom building located at the Newport-Sunset Cliffs corner of the grounds.

Permanent Building Later

Churchman informed The News, however, that the portable units are only a temporary emergency measure and that the district's plan is to start construction of a new permanent classroom building and cafeteria. "And, we hope," he said, "that we can begin construction on the permanent building later in the coming school year of 1947-1948.

The portable units are to be of construction suitable to moving them around from school to school wherever an emergency need may arise, Churchman stated.

Rhodes program is exclusive of any work that might be done during the year by Army Engineers under a million-dollar appropriation approved by Congress July 26 for flood control phases of the giant project.

Reports on City Financing

Rhodes reported the City has on hand $1,223,185 in Mission Bay Bond funds to carry on the work. However, State and Federal appropriations expected soon should boost the fund to $1,866,352, exclusive of the million dollars appropriated to the Army Engineers.

The City has spent $1,631,310 on the project and has loaned $197,327 to the State and Federal governments to permit them to get started on their phases of the work. That money is expected to be repaid soon, and is included in the $1,866,352 Rhodes said will be available before long.

As outlined by Rhodes and City Planning Director Glenn A. Rick, work on Santa Clara Point would include landscaping, street and parking lot lighting, surfacing of the parking lot and remodeling of the Community building; on El Carmel Point work would include surfacing the road and parking lot, landscaping and installing utilities; at Ventura Place, curbs and storm drain would be installed, the area landscaped and pier, floats and boat ramp installed; at Sunset Point roads and parking lots would be surfaced, water lines installed, the area landscaped and pier, floats and boat ramp installed; on Tierra del Fuego island, road and parking lot would be surfaced, water line installed and landscaping started.

dense undergrowth, spaced hyacinth topped swamps, along the way. Later the road became narrow, dippy and black-topped. More than once some senseless "character" (Carol's pet expression), tried to take a hunk of 'skin 'offn mah haide.' I stopped at a small cafe to lunch. The woman who served me started a conversation which ended with me accepting an invitation to stay and help her while her husband went on a trip to Michigan.

Note: Mr. Sefton's gardens are close to Norma's home.)

July 3

Mom, how tall does our corn grow? (Note: We grow corn nearly every year in our Pt. Loma garden.) Seems like I remember it being five ft. tall. I'm standing in an Alabama field of corn and it reaches a good three feet above my head. (Norma is 5 ft. 7¾ in.)

The air is still and I listen in the silent rows for sounds. At first I can't hear a thing, then one by one as I listen harder, they come—a whip-o'will's clear call from the white-patched blue sky; a clacking cricket conversation from knee-deep patches of grass: a fly's slow buzz as he circles about me to choose a vulnerable spot; human voices, unfamiliar Bohemian, from the nearby farm; the faint, low hum of a tractor loosening earth in the next field for sweet potato planting.

Suddenly as if a spell has been broken, there is a noisy turbulence all about me. A gust of wind has whipped the field into lively motion. Like a giant horde the rows of cornstalks bobble their many arm-like leaves, wavering as in a grotesque oriental dance. Straw colored tassels shake like frowzy-haired heads. Sharply I am reminded of a naked savage mob I saw in a news-reel, dancing for the royalty of England on their African visit. The racket of the thrashing leaves subsides with the wind and so do the corn-stalk personalities. Now I'm among a whispering crowd. The wind dies, leaving the field still once more—thick stems, like green-haired arms rising from the soil; tassels, like open hands pleading heavenwards for life from the sun and rain. I feel diminutive in these long emerald halls.

Tuesday, July 8

Dear Mom:

I took the long way out of Mobile last Wednesday, because the manager of the Bankhead tunnel wouldn't make any exception to the "No bicycles" rule. Don't know what I passed thru'. I didn't see much of it. I was too busy wondering why I'm me and Richard's Richard. I met Richard at a service station in Mobile. I stayed with his family June 30th and July 1st. We went crabbing, dancing and swimming. He could not understand my traveling, begged me to go home.

It was about noon July 2nd, when I stopped under a tree beside a small service station to catch my breath and drink some water. A pretty little red-haired woman came out and invited me to lunch. I was quite surprised, but very pleased and tried to show it by helping with the dishes. I had planned to get on down the road, but the woman and her husband were so friendly, that I couldn't resist when they insisted I stay overnight. I made myself as useful as I could that afternoon, ironing, helping get dinner and playing with their daughter, Dianne, while they kept busy with customers. We were all good friends by the time the day ended. They begged me to stay on with them until their big "chicken fry" on the following Sunday, promising plenty of work and twice as much fun. It sounded so good I accepted. From then on I was a busy girl. I danced four different evenings, swam in the moonlit Gulf, ate watermelon to my heart's content—watermelon patch in back of house—had two parties given in my honor, washed dishes and clothes, ironed, cleaned house, cooked dinner, was Marie's — the red head that first invited me in—right hand man and confidante, was Dianne's constant playmate, Eddie's—Marie's husband—helper, the nucleus of the gang that hangs out at the cafe, swam in a black watered river, watched the town team play ball, was the center of attraction at the "Chicken Fry" and made friends with everyone in town and its surrounding neighborhood, including Marie's Bohemian relatives, all such grand people. I enjoyed every minute of it. One wonderful part of the whole experience was the small town atmosphere. Everyone knew everyone else and what's more, were friends. They all considered me a sort of celebrity at first—Marie had read about me in the Mobile paper—but before I left I was one of them. Marie said, she just wished I could stay forever, then choked. I thought for a minute she was going to cry.

Note: Norma sent snaps of Marie and Eddie Joseph, Dianne 4 and a good many of the relatives. Marie's parents were named Ondracka. Norma stayed with them six days, left July 7 for Pensacola. On July 8 she arrived in Pensacola, and was arrested for resting in a Park —'loitering' and wearing a sunsuit (shorts and halter) — 'indecent exposure.' She writes — I'll send the jail story later. It's a hot one.')

Ocean Beach Navy Officer Writes of Visit to Greece

From Chief James I Claspill, aviation storekeeper, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Caspill of 4660 Newport Ave., have received an unusually interesting letter telling of his visit to Athens, Greece, while his ship, the U. S. S. Floyds Bay, was in port there early in July. Jim, who grew up and was educated here, re-enlisted in the Navy last January and left here June 5, this year, to take up foreign duty. He served throughout the war, having been on shore duty on Midway and at Honolulu. Text of his letter follows:

Athens, Greece
July 6, 1947

Dear Folks:

I had a very nice time in Athens; spent July Fourth there from 1330 to 0100. It is a good looking city and the people look OK to me. I heard that the small towns were not as well off. It seems as though the U. S. S. R. gents have told the farmers, "Why grow food when the others will give it to you, why work when it is free?" So most of the food for Athens comes in via ship. I saw a shipload of white flour being unloaded, but I did not see any white bread in town.

In Greece there are a few very sick and most are very poor. The small middle class, or many of them, are those home from the U. S. after 20 years of hard work and saving. Greek people stopped us several times downtown asking where we were from. Most of them had lived in large east coast cities. Two chiefs (USN RET.) with 20 or 30 years came on the ship. They get along very nicely with the Navy check that arrives once a month. It is this group that owns the new good looking stores, too.

The Royal Park is quite large and runs through half the town. The boy who showed us around told us all about how the English rob them. Even the Germans were better.

There are several thousand English Army men in Athens. The Army Store is a block long and four stories high. The largest hotel is also English, but the newest and best looking is owned by the Greeks from the U. S. It seems to me that most of the Greeks that have lived in Greece all the time think too much of how great they were 3000 years ago and not of how they will be 500 years from now. L wonder when the U. S. will be this way. The English are getting there, and it's not good.

The ship is having quite a shakedown now. Far too many are coming back from liberty drunk and looking for fights and finding them. Some of the officers did not know just what to do about that, but I think the captain does, and is doing things now. Several men will not have liberty at all in the next port or two.

I have been enjoying the trip, but I will have to work it out when we get on station. There will be four of these and one large one in the Chinese waters. We may not have an airfield or base there, but just what is the dif? We will service as many aircraft.

Sunday is the only day I would like to be home. Time goes slow here and I can't get out to dinner with you-all. We did have a good chicken dinner with ice cream, but it takes more to make a Sunday dinner.

We will have four days off in the next port; Monday, Wednesday and Thursday for me. Duty Tuesday. So hope to have something interesting for you next week.

Love,
Jim

Athens Celebrates Our July 4

With the letter Jim enclosed the following copy of the front page story about how Athens celebrated the American July 4 holiday, taken from the Athens Daily Morning Press:

Athens went all out in paying honor to American Independence day yesterday. Almost every street corner flew the American flag. In almost every newspaper there was a large spread honoring the United States; and in Piraeus Harbor every ship was in full dress for the occasion.

But the climax of the day came when the king of Greece himself paid a visit to the USS Floyds Bay, the lone American Navy ship in the harbor. His Hellenic Majesty King Paul I came aboard the seaplane tender at 1130 for an official courtesy visit in honor of the American holiday.

The king and his escorts were conducted throughout the ship by the commanding officer, Capt. G. L. Kohr, USN, of York, Penn., formerly chief of staff for the commander of the Air Forces Atlantic Fleet. The tour was completed in a most appropriate style. In the captain's cabin was served a true American dish, bona fide American ice cream.

The Greek king was accompanied by Vice Admiral Mezeviris, chief of the Royal Greek Navy, and several others of the Greek government, including the minister of marine, the minister of air, the chief of the air staff, the chief of the Royal Hellenic Air Force, and the director of intelligence. Among the non-Greek visitors were the deputy head of the British mission and Rear Admiral J. A. Snackeburg, USN, AmericanNaval attache.

During the afternoon, some 400 Greek civilians toured the ship, all selected by the American Embassy. The largest percentage of these were students of the American College of Athens.

Those invited were: Allen Conaway, Jimmy Stevens, Stephen Aldridge and Dick Chadwick. Grown-ups present besides the parents were: the boys' great-aunt, Miss Lena Nason, Jack Farley and Lt. Cmdr. J. A. Pierce. After games of bingo, pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey, and archery shooting, the refreshments of ice cream, chocolate decorated cake and fruit punch were served.

BIRTHS

Linda was born July 28 to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bushek of 4833 Saratoga. She is the couple's first child, and made her debut at Mercy hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Lee of 3903 Xenophon St. announce the birth of a son, Jack Harris Jr., born July 14 at Balboa hospital. He is their second child.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mr. and Mrs. Milford "Swede" Berglund of San Bernardino with their son Bobby are currently the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kraft of 727 Armada Terrace. Arriving August 3, they plan to spend a week here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wetzel of Houston, Tex. are currently the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Young of 4405 Narragansett. The Wetzels arrived from Los Angeles, where they had been vacationing, and brought their young son with them .

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hockenberry of 4664 Cape May are expected home in two or three weeks from Canada, where they have been vacationing. With them to Princeton, B. C. went their daughter, Lillian. The Hockenberrys left Ocean Beach for the northern country July 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schoen returned July 31 from Seymour, Mo., where they had been visiting Mrs. Schoen's parents for a month. With the couple went Skipper, their dog, for whose sake they drove at night and slept in the daytime. The weather was terribly hot across the desert, Mrs. Schoen said, but in Missouri they found it cool and pleasant.

Mrs. E. J. Beauclair of 4461 Cruz returned August 4 from an excursion to Catalina Island. With her went her two children, Dickie and Beverly Ann. The Beauclairs were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Selzer and their two children Jackie and Carolyn of San Diego. The group drove to Los Angeles August 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Follick and their two sons are scheduled to move next week to Los Angeles, after nine years here. The change is caused by Mr. Follick's transfer from Consolidated Aircraft here to Northrup Aircraft in Los Angeles, where he will be working on aeronautical research. The Follick home at 4505 Santa Cruz has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene La Fond of Azure Vista. The La Fonds also have two children.

Mrs. Thomas B. Bonetto, president of Rebekah Assembly, will conduct a district meeting of instruction at Sunset Hall in San Diego at 10 a.m. August 8. She will be subsequently honored at both a luncheon to be served in the hall, and a banquet which will be held in Silvergate Masonic temple. All elective and past elective officers of the Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly of California and other jurisdictions have been sent special invitations to attend.

O. B. Residents To Display Hobbies ... At Center Show

(by John Wood)

An opportunity for residents of the Beach area to display articles of their collection or making will be given on Tuesday, August 26, when a hobby and craft show, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, will be given at the Community Center. From the displays shown at the Center, especially interesting exhibits will be selected for display at the City-wide hobby and craft show to be given at Balboa Park over a four-day period, August 29, 30, and 31, and September 1.

Any child or adult may make an exhibit at the Community Center show. Several applications have been received, and further applications for the exhibit may be made with the directors at the Center. While any articles of interest will be accepted, some of the popular entrys probably will include model planes, photography, racers, drawings, soap or wood carvings, leather work, ceramics, stamp collections, stencilling, needlework, and fancy canned goods. Children's classes in woodcraft, ceramics, stencilling, and photography will display their work.

The show at the Center will begin at 7:30 on Tuesday, August 26, and is open without charge to the public.

The services of a group of women from the community will be needed to supervise and explain the exhibits at the Balboa Park show. The directors would appreciate hearing from any women who are willing to volunteer their services for this work.

meeting than has been the case where night meetings are held.

Time and place for holding the September luncheon meeting was left to the House committee to decide.

At the business session also, R. F. Wilson proprietor of the Blue Pacific Wire Co., was inducted into membership by Chairman Lancaster.

Complaints On Beach Aired

Complaints that have come to the Chamber of Commerce against allowing J. L. Redding a concession at the foot of Bacon St., to charge for parking cars where the occupants wished to use the Bay beach nearby were aired at the meeting. J. B. White spoke in favor of asking the city to grant an easement which would permit free access to the beach in question. He suggested that a petition be circulated.

Since the meeting of Monday evening, however, the Chamber president, F. F. Swan, obtained information showing that free access to this beach has been granted by the city. Inquiry Wednesday of W. E. Swobe, assistant project engineer for the Mission Bay park development, revealed that he had cautioned Redding against making a charge for parking to those wishing to use the picnic and other public facilities provided at this particular beach.

Further investigation by the president and Vice President Dick Hilmen Wednesday revealed that in all probability Redding had given up whatever concession he had from the city (the lease he had was on a month-to-month basis Swobe indicated) Proprietors of the bait house nearby informed the investigators that Redding had not been there since last Sunday nor had any parking charge been made there since Sunday, and that the land-seagoing barge, "The Invader" previously stationed there to solicit rides on the Bay had been moved away, presumably first to Pacific Beach and later to Del Mar.

Junior and Senior Woman's Clubs to Sponsor Show

In cooperation with the Junior Woman's club's newly adopted project of all-out support of the local Community Center, a joint committee of both Junior and Senior club members will sponsor the proposed doll show and contest to be held August 15th at the Center.

The committee which is composed of Mrs. J. P. Miller, Mrs. John Burdine, Mrs. Dean Marshall, Mrs. I. W. Parks, and Mrs. Paul Farrar of the Senior club, and Mrs. William A. Stone Jr. and Mrs. John D. Gregory of the Junior club, met Wednesday at the Center to discuss the prizes and judging of the contest. It was decided that six, and possibly seven classifications will be judged. These are: handmade dolls, best collection, oldest or most historical, best dressed, best dressed doll whose clothes were made by the owner, and a single judging of the most outstanding doll. In addition, a classification for the judging of puppets is also being considered. First and second prizes will be provided by the sponsoring women's clubs an dMrs. J. P. Miller, Mrs. Dean Marshall, and Mrs. John Burdine were selected as judges.

The contest will begin at 2:30 p.m. August 15 and there will be another showing that evening between 7 and 7:30. After the evening women's clubs and Mrs. J. P. peteer of Azure Vista, will present his class of young puppeteers in a puppet show of their own. The youngsters have made the marionettes themselves, and will perform them on the miniature puppet stage. Because the young puppet artists must work behind curtains, thus further muffling their none too strong voices, Center officials have requested that young children in the audience be accompanied by an adult.

Center officials expressed the hopes that the doll show will be sufficiently popular and well received to warrant its being made a yearly feature of the Center.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Griffin played the lead role in the deception preliminary to the surprise housewarming given Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Schowengerdt to celebrate their new home at 4403 Newport Ave. Wednesday evening. On the plausible pretext of taking the couple to dinner in celebration of their 10th wedding anniversary Thursday, the Griffins lured the Schowengerdts to Casa de Manana in La Jolla for a dinner party, proposing to take them to the Starlight Opera afterwards. When the group had finished dinner, Mrs. Griffin announced that she had left her purse at the Schowengerdt home, necessitating the party's return there. When they arrived back at the house, however, it was to discover 66 friends assembled with food and drink for a gala housewarming party. The Schowengerdts moved to their new home last week from a former residence on Del Monte St.

WHAT BICYCLING HABITS ARE YOU FORMING?

(BY S. D. Police Department)

Your bicycle is very definitely a "trainer" until the time you will be driving a big fancy automobile. The habits you develop when riding the bicycle WILL carry over. When you were very young, your car was a "Kiddie Car." Then you rode a tricycle up and down the sidewalk and Mother let you ride around the block and across a few streets. Now, you have a bike with permission to ride where you please in the neighborhood. Soon, you will want to use the family car — and not too far in the distant future, you'll have your own.

In other words, one has some kind of a machine on wheels at his disposal from a very early age, and when you keep it under control, it is your servant; BUT, when you let it out of control, it can be an instrument of destruction. Every machine on wheels that you have owned is a "trainer" for a larger, more powerful machine to come.

Let's consider some of the practices which you'll carry over as a motorist. We'll break them down into the good and bad habits. Let's take the bad ones first — one of which is that of "weaving" in and out of traffic. You'll probably get by with it during your bicycling days which may be for 10 years — so look at the amount of time you have practiced a wrong driving procedure. Can't you see that it could very well become a habit, and a habit which will more than likely get you into trouble.

Perhaps the habit which will cause you the most trouble as a bicyclist — one which causes many accidents to motorists — is that of pulling into traffic without looking. Some cyclists shoot out of driveways without once thinking of the vehicles that speed by on the boulevard. Others move into traffic from the curb, failing to look for motorists who will be affected by their movement. This practice carried over into your motoring habits will prove costly. The habit of unheeding boulevard stops on a bicycle will more than lekely lead to the same practice while driving a car.

What can we do that will result in good driving habits when we become motorists? There are many things which one can do, but there is an all-inclusive practice which will affect ones driving habits in those years as a motorist. One should KNOW and OBEY the traffic regulations. The Vehicle Code states this about bicycling — "Every person riding a bicycle upon a highway shall be granted all of the rights and shall be subject to all the duties applicable to the driver of a vehicle by this Division, except, those provisions which by their very nature can have no application." So you see, as a bike rider, you have responsibility not only to yourself but to others as well. If, as a bike rider, you learn to think of the rights of others, your days as a motorist will be safer. Remember — habits GOOD or BAD are hard to break.

S. D. Troupers Club Meets at Rigg Home

The party's over now. The gay and hearty guests have returned to their quiet life of retirement, leaving only the imagined echo of once-famous voices and once-loved songs. Lingering loudest and longest, perhaps, are the triumphant choruses of "There's No Business Like Show Business."

For tat was the theme song of the unique group which assembled August 3 at the Ocean Beach home of Mrs. Katherine Rigg, long a well known resident of the Beach and for many years an internationally featured soubtette. Her 42 guests included representatives of every branch of the theatrical world. Former stars of vaudeville, opera, drama, minstrel, and even the bizarre world of the circus were united under the nostalgic banner of the San Diego Troupers, a club whose membership is composed of retired theatrical performers, people who remember in a very personal way the era of Keith, the Orpheum Circuit, the Palace, and the Hippodrome.

With the spontaneity of natural performers, the guests danced, sang, and clowned all over the delightful patio of Mrs. Rigg's Saratoga Ave., home. Before a lamp marked "42nd St. and Broadway," they sang of old New York and the days that now they can only remember. Mrs. Riggs was Kitty Kirkman again, singing "Give My Regards to Broadway" with zest and flavour.

The guest list included the names of stage personalities once familiar the nation over. Present were: Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. D. J. Spahr, Col. and Mrs. J. H. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. B. Lathrop, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prince, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rostain, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sweet, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Blain, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Knauer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Valentine, Mrs. Maude Allison, Mrs. Mildred Manning, Mrs. May Symes, Mrs. Clara Harvey, Mrs. Lou Wood, Mrs. Minnie Beemer, Mrs. Lucille Oberhellman, Mrs. Betsy Cooper, Mrs. "Bunny" Cleare, Mrs. Nelly Kelly, Mrs. M. Fehr, Mrs. Emma Jeancon, Mrs. Nan Twomey, Mrs. Blanche Laforest, Mrs. Lula Powers, Richard Chapman, Jerry Gargano, Johnny Whittington, Allen Campbell, Orlo V. Pratt, Brenner Lewis.

The club is well known to San Diegans. Its members have a reputation as tireless benefit performers, playing hospitals, children's homes, and the like. With Mrs. Rigg, Mrs. Allison, and the late Lotta Gladstone on its first board of directors, the club was founded in 1930 by the late Tommy Getz, Jack Allison, and Tommy Kennedy.

Somebody once said of the group "The spirit of old times was there. The talent and the showmanship were there and everybody went home happy." It can well be said again.

Cliffs Blvd. From the 4-way junction point, the route from Ocean Beach to Mission Beach will follow a northwesterly course through Sunset Point and terminating in Mission Beach at Mission Blvd., near the Amusement center.

The revised map also shows that the southerly extension of the Causeway road is extended south across West Point Loma Blvd. to Famosa Blvd., and thence south to tie in with the proposed Wabaska Dr., short cut route to tie in with Harbor Dr. This extension evidently does away with the present road from the Causeway into Midway Dr.

Fear Loss Of Trade

Directors at Wednesday's meeting, all of whom expressed themselves, generally stated the opinion that this further by-passing of Ocean Beach would result in loss of trade to Ocean Beach business men both of the Voltaire St. and the Newport Ave., business districts, and that the new routing also would cut off a considerable part of the patronage of the local beach of the Ocean Beach community, to say nothing about increasing the difficulty to travel between Ocean Beach and Mission Beach.

Following the discussion a motion passed turning the matter over to the local Chamber's Civic Affairs committee with instructions to act at once to see what can be done to protect the interests of the Ocean Beach community.

Milton Lancaster is chairman of this committee and serving with him are Harry Masters, R. E. Reed, and Dr. W. B. Oster. The chairman also asked that Harry Williams be a fifth member of this commitee.

Chairman Lancaster reported that like committees of the Lions club and the Kiwanis club will be asked to assist in the campaign. The understanding is that a mass meeting of Ocean Beach citizens will be called should that be necessary. First step will be to obtain full information from the city officials, then to see if route changes favorable to Ocean Beach can still be obtained. The map shows that no less than four revisions of the original map have been made since the first map was drawn. Revisions have been made January 16, 1947, February 25, 1947, April 5, 1947 and June 18, 1947, the map shows.

TRAFFIC TIPS & HOT SPOTS

Over half the Californians killed in automobile accidents are killed at night or in hours of semi-darkness. Chief of Police Clifford E. Peterson is reminding vacation drivers to check their headlights, tail lights, and stop lights. The most recent nation-wide check of autos disclosed bad lights to be one of the commonest flaws. With over half the traffic victims killed at night, a check is worth anyone's time, say the safety men.

TRAFFIC TIPS & HOT SPOTS

San Diego drivers are being warned to keep an eye out for children playing in the streets during the summer months. Chief of Police Clifford E.
